

Sun. 30 August 1915 [29/03/2017]

PRIVATE T. LIVINGSTONE.

Mr Thomas Livingstone, of 436 Durham Street, Christchurch, has been advised that his second son, Private Thomas Livingstone, of the 4th Australian Battalion, is in the 1st Australian General Hospital at Heliopolis, with a bullet wound in one of his legs. Private Livingstone is 30 years old. For a time he was in the service of the New Zealand Farmers' Go-operative Association, Christchurch, but for about eight years subsequently he was a commercial traveller in Sydney. He was a member of the Australian Advance Force which seized German New Guinea. On returning to Sydney he volunteered for the Front. One of his brothers, Corporal R. H. Livingstone, of the Canterbury Battalion, who has been wounded a second time, is in the same hospital.

Press. 30 August 1915 [01/08/2025]

Advice has been received by Mr Thomas Livingstone, 436 Durham Street, Christchurch, from the Minister of Defence, that his son, Private Thomas Livingstone, of the 4th Australian Battalion, had been admitted to the 1st Australian General Hospital at Heliopolis on August 14th, with a bullet wound in the leg. Private Livingstone, who is Mr Livingstone's second son, is 30 years of age, and was born on the Otago goldfields. He was educated at Timaru, and subsequently entered the service of the New Zealand Farmers' Co-op., Christchurch. For the eight years up to the time of his enlistment, he, however, had been engaged as a commercial traveller in Sydney. Private Livingstone was a senior Rugby footballer in the capital of the Mother State. When war broke out he joined the Australian Expeditionary Force sent to seize German New Guinea, and he was engaged in the operations leading to the capture of Rabaul. After six months' service in New Guinea he returned to Sydney and joined an Australian force, being despatched to the Dardanelles. A sister of Private Livingstone, well-known in Christchurch, who had been in business in London for the last eight years, is now on her way out to New Zealand for a holiday visit. She broke her journey when passing through the Suez Canal the other day, and was surprised to find both her brothers in the same hospital, the other brother being Lance-Corporal R. H. Livingstone, of the Canterbury Infantry Battalion, who has been wounded a second time.

Lyttelton Times. 30 August 1915 [01/08/2025]

Mr Thomas Livingstone, 436, Durham Street, received a telegram on Saturday morning stating that his son, Private T. Livingstone (4th Australian Battalion) had been admitted to hospital at Heliopolis on August 14, with a bullet wound in his leg. Private Livingstone is thirty years of age, and a native of St Bathans, Otago. He was a commercial traveller in Sydney and enlisted when war broke out. He was in the force that went to Rabaul. He was in Sydney for eight or nine years and played football.

Timaru Herald. 2 September 1915 [29/03/2017]

Among those in hospital at Heliopolis is Private T. Livingstone, of the 4th Australian Battalion, a Timaru boy, son of ex-detective Livingstone. A sister was on her way out from Home the other day, and found two brothers in the same hospital, the other brother being Lance-Corporal R. H. Livingstone, of the Canterbury Infantry Battalion, who has been wounded a second time.

Lyttelton Times. 24 November 1915 [01/08/2025]

Mr T. Livingstone, of Durham Street, Christchurch, has received official information from Captain Lean, of the Base Records, Melbourne, that cable advice has been received to the effect that Mr Livingstone's son, Private T. Livingstone, 2100 [sic], Fourth Battalion, is returning to Australia. Private Livingstone was a commercial traveller in the Commonwealth before the war began, and enlisted in Sydney. He was wounded by shrapnel at Suvla Bay on August 6, and since then has been in hospital in Egypt.

Referee (Sydney, NSW), Wednesday, 29 March 1916 (Trove) [03/08/2025]

OFF TO WAR FOR THIRD TIME.

Tom Livingstone, the burly Sydney Club forward of 1907 and 1908, is trying the war for the third time next week. He was one of the first to volunteer, and went to Rabaul. On his return he left for Gallipoli, where he was wounded in the trenches, and he is now about to make his third appearance in the firing line.

The Herald (Melbourne, VIC), Wednesday, 2 Nov 1902 (Trove) [021/08/2025] ?

A THIEF PUNISHED.

HIS RECORD BAD.

A colored man, named William Miller, appeared at the City Court to-day charged with stealing a medal and a badge. He pleaded guilty to having the stolen property in his possession, but on being told that it would be necessary to take depositions he said he would plead guilty to the theft.

Thomas M. Livingston, commercial traveller, stated that on Tuesday he went to the Cup. In the evening he missed his traveller's railway pass and a badge, and reported the matter to the detectives.

Detective Manning stated that on the night of the 4th he and Detective Howard arrested the accused on another charge. On being searched at the lock-up the stolen property was found in his pocket. Witness asked him where he got it from, and accused told him to "find out."

Accused said that he bought the medal and badge from a man in the street for 5s. The man was drunk, and said that he was hard up.

Accused, who had a bad record, was sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

Star (Christchurch). 9 Sep 1915 [15/07/2023]

PRIVATE P. M. LIVINGSTONE,
4th Australian Battalion, wounded.