

Waimate Daily Advertiser. 14 September 1915 (Papers Past) [03/04/2020]

KILLED IN ACTION.

CORPORAL E. RICKMAN.

News was received privately Waimate to-day that Corporal E. Rickman, of the Mounted portion of the Main Expeditionary Force, had been killed in action at the Dardanelles. Corporal Rickman was a native of Waimate, being a son of the late Mr F. M. Rickman, one of the first stud sheep owners in Waimate, a pioneer of the pastoral industry. The late Corporal Rickman began his schooling in Waimate, and completed it in Ashburton where the family had gone. He there joined the staff of Friedlander Bros, as auction clerk, and came to Waimate as clerk for Mr Leslie O'Callaghan, accompanying the latter to Timaru. Afterwards he returned to Waimate, and piloted several successors through the Waimate Saturday auction, and himself trying it as a partner. Corporal Rickman was a keen footballer, golf and tennis player, a good rider at the Hunt (winning the Steeplechase once), and a willing helper in any good cause. His sort can ill be spared. His mother resides in Ashburton. Mr Robert Rickman, his elder brother, is on the staff of Dalgety and Co. in Timaru.

Timaru Herald. 15 September 1915 (Papers Past) [26/11/2013]

CORPORAL E. RICKMAN.

News was received privately Waimate yesterday that Corporal E. Rickman, of the Mounted portion of the Main Expeditionary Force, had been killed in action at the Dardanelles. Corporal Rickman was a native of Waimate, being a son of the late Mr F. M. Rickman, one of the first stud sheep owners in Waimate, a pioneer of the pastoral industry. The late Corporal Rickman began his schooling in Waimate, and completed it in Ashburton where the family had gone. He there joined the staff of Friedlander Bros, as auction clerk, and came to Waimate as clerk for Mr Leslie O'Callaghan, accompanying the latter to Timaru. Afterwards he returned to Waimate, and piloted several successors through the Waimate Saturday auction, and himself trying it as a partner. Corporal Rickman was a keen footballer, golf and tennis player, a good rider at the hunt (winning the Steeplechase once). Mr A. Rickman, Marchwiell Street, Timaru, is a brother.