

Private M. J. Scannell, age twenty-nine (killed in action on June 7) and Rifleman C. Scannell, aged twenty-five (died of sickness at Durban on May 28, on his return voyage), were the sixth and seventh sons of Mr and Mrs D. Scannell, Lyalldale, St Andrews. They were born at Kerrytown and educated at the Convent School. They assisted on their father's farm at St Andrews for a time. For six years prior to Private M. Scannell's enlistment he was engaged in the Railway Department, the last year being spent in the Lyttelton booking office. He took a keen interest in football.

Private M.J. Scannell, age twenty-nine (killed in action on June 7) and Rifleman C. Scannell, aged twenty-five (died of sickness at Durban on May 28. on his return voyage), were the sixth and seventh sons of Mr and Mrs D. Scannell, Lyalldale, St Andrews. They were born at Kerrytown and educated at the Convent School. They assisted on their father's farm at St Andrews for a time. For six years prior to Private M. Scannell's enlistment he was engaged in the Railway Department, the last year being spent in the Lyttelton booking office. He took a keen interest in football.